

Veggie Caps

Empty HPMC Vegetable Capsules

Product Description

dōTERRA's vegetable-derived HPMC capsules allow you to customize a dietary supplement program for your specific wellness needs. Formulated to be free of animal products, preservatives, SLS, gelatin, wheat, sugar, starch, and dairy, dōTERRA's vegetable capsules dissolve quickly and completely in your stomach and do not interfere with digestion.

Primary Benefits

- Empty vegetable capsules provide a flavor and odor barrier for taking dietary ingredients orally
- Use to customize blends of dōTERRA's CPTG Certified Pure Therapeutic Grade® essential oils that are labeled for internal use
- Provides an alternative delivery system for vegetarians or people with religious preferences against gelatin capsules derived from animal products

What Makes This Product Unique?

- HPMC (hydroxypropyl methylcellulose) is 100% plant material consisting of purified water and plant fiber or cellulose
- Capsules are free of sodium lauryl sulfate (SLS)

Who Should Use This Product?

dōTERRA® Veggie Caps can be safely used by anyone desiring to customize their use of essential oils or other dietary ingredients for internal consumption.

Directions For Use

Carefully separate the top and bottom portions of a capsule, fill bottom capsule with dietary ingredients, then slide top half of capsule onto bottom capsule until secure. Consume. When making capsules that contain essential oils or other liquid ingredients, consume immediately.

Cautions

Only use capsules with ingredients labeled for internal use.
